

MEDIA ADVISORY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
May 30, 2006

L.A. Trade-Technical College Moves Forward with Largest Construction Project to Date on Campus

Project to include two new five-story classroom buildings, athletic field and subterranean parking structure

- WHAT: Demolition of existing building on campus to make way for Los Angeles Trade-Technical College's South Campus projects.
- WHEN: Wednesday, May 31, 2006
9 a.m. Ceremony begins
- SPEAKERS: Darroch "Rocky" Young, chancellor, LACCD
Larry H. Eisenberg, executive director of Facilities Planning and Development, LACCD
Dr. Tom Harris, president, Los Angeles Trade-Technical College
Ethan Burrall, president, Associated Student Organization
- WHERE: Prestige Parking Lot on 22nd Street
Los Angeles Trade-Technical College, 400 W. Washington Blvd., Los Angeles 90015
Parking is available in Lot F (roof-top parking) – located off 21st St. on Grand Ave.
- NEWS: The demolition of two existing structures will make way for the South Campus projects, the largest construction projects planned for the campus that will include two five-story classroom buildings, underground parking and a new athletic field.
- VISUALS: Capture VIPs as they countdown and push the plunger on the ceremonial Confetti Cannon to mark the demolition of the existing buildings.
- BACKGROUND: The South Campus projects are part of Los Angeles Trade-Technical College's renovation and upgrade efforts to enhance and modernize its facilities, funded by the $2.2 billion Proposition A and AA bonds passed by voters in 2001 and 2003. For more information, visit the College's website at www.LATTC.edu.
- CONTACT: Glenda Vaquerano | gvaquerano@mww.com
David Herbst | dherbst@mww.com
Phone: 213-486-6560

###