Directive

Design Professionals of Record providing design services for Design Build, Design Bid Build or other such methodology for the Los Angeles Community College District (LACCD) are requested to only include the following sections in the Division 1 portion of the Specifications – and as required by current California Building Code – with their Division of the State Architect submissions:

Section 014000 – Quality Requirements

Section 014100 – Testing and Inspection

Design Professionals of Record are advised not to include any reference to other Division 01 specification sections on a table of contents or otherwise in the DSA submission.

Design Professionals of Record are advised that LACCD will provide all Division 01 specification sections for each project. Design Professionals of Record are not to prepare Division 01 specification sections or include versions from any other agency/owner when providing services to LACCD.
